Chad Miller, CEO, Legacy Sports USA stated, “This project is the culmination of years of experience and planning. Legacy Park will transform the youth sports & family entertainment market across the United States. Having a banking partner such as Ziegler, was the critical component in bringing this vision to reality. Their team exemplified the professionalism and experience one would expect from a leader in the industry. We are forever grateful to Ziegler, for all of the time, effort, and dedication they expended in bringing the Legacy Project to fruition.”

"On behalf of myself and Legacy Cares, Inc., we are thrilled that the vision of Legacy Sports Park will soon be a reality. This would not have been possible without Miyun Cho Fellerhoff, Tyler Simons and the entire Ziegler team. Thank you for all for your leadership and support in helping to create a Sports and Entertainment complex that will provide so much to athletes and their families in the Valley of the Sun, throughout North America and around the world,” stated Douglas Moss, Executive Director Legacy Cares, Inc.

Dan O’Brien, Director, Legacy Cares, Inc. and 1996 Olympic Gold Medalist, Decathlon stated, “Our goal from the beginning was to give back to the community the same way sports has given back to us throughout our entire careers. We at Legacy Cares want to enhance the overall experience for athletes, coaches and their families in today’s sporting world. I was lucky enough to wear the USA uniform and represent my family, my community and my country and leave a legacy that people would remember. I want to provide that same opportunities to the next generation of athletes. No one is successful on their own. It takes a team, training partners, a family, a state and sometimes even a country to be successful. A sports park of this magnitude is long overdue on the west coast. Its more than just giving kids a place to play sports, it's about giving them a place to realize their dreams. Thank you to Ziegler Investment Bank and a special thanks to Miyun Cho Fellerhoff and Tyler Simons.”
